Chauncey I. Filley Makes Caustic Statement About Good Government Club's Troubles.

Attempt to Make the Club Subserv ient to the Purposes of the Republican "Reorganizers" Is Exposed.

Recent attempts of Republican "reorganizers" to change the name of the Good Government League Republican Club; the apcointment of a new Executive Committee in manner which is claimed to be entirely fllegal; the effort to make it appear that he favored all these things, are the subjects of caustic statement by Chauncey L Filley. He talks in characteristic fashion of the 'gang's" dilemma and shows how the "reorganizers" made themselves look foolish in the bungling manner in which they tried to carry out their plans. Through it all runs a note of satisfaction on the part of the "eliminated" Republican leader. There is a very plain hint that, after the present injunction suit of the Financial Secretary, whom the reorganizers attempted to depose, has been settled, other legal proceedings will be taken which will make matters exceedingly lively, if not overly comfortable for the men now nom-inally in power. And there are hints that here may be even other rude surprises in store for these same officers. In the course of his statement, Mr. Filley says:

"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad.' Somebody is mad. It don't do to get mad so quickly in the game. It is demoralizing and indiscret. It does not betoken a cool, level-headed politician and lacks the first element of political wisdomcaution. It does not give confidence in a would-be leader of even a faction of the party, and discredits the faction.

Why Change of Name Is Sought. "The abidance by constitutional provisons and by-laws and rules and law are essential to a successful lender and adviser. Truth is also essential in politics and should not be discarded. Precedents are also requisite, as well as parliamentary manuals. Ancient history is not to be discarded; even if some discontents and 'would-be's' cannot stord. stand it. There are others like myself who can. This is the main reason why the can. This is the main reason why the change of the name of the Good Government League Republican Club is sought, so that those who have stood up for bad government, can get into the club under some other and, by them, less detested name.

"The club had become popular and the hope of those who seek good government. Its motto is disliked by the old gang. The Cliy Committee, which the gang denominates, is in such disrepute that is—the majority—could not be re-elected under the new primary law.

"The scheme of so-called 'consolidation' includes as a condition its preservation and carrying over into the 1962 campaign. This would mean absolute defeat to the Republican party. This is generally admitted it has been, I am advised, reported that I favored the scheme. This is unqualifiedly false, as is also the statement that I favored the change of name of the club. To permit either of these outrages upon the party would be its sure defeat. The Good Government Club is the only one of the leading Republican clubs that last spring refused to accept the action of the City Committee in denying the party the right of a delegate nominating convention.

"The necessity of surrender care to the Ticket for Next Year Agreed Upon. "Tieket for Next Year Agreed Upon.

"The necessity of surrender now to that gang is not apparent. The Good Government Club is the reliance of the good government Republican element of the city, uninfluenced by commercial bargains of division of the nominations and the spoils of appointments. Aiready, I am informed, the fall ticket of 1902 has been agreed upon and divided out with the aid and hunger of some of the discordant element of the Good Government Club. This may satisfy the greed of the cormorants, but it is not conducive to party success so soon to close the nominations. It is not good advice or leadership. It already has formented.

is not conducive to party success so soon to close the nominations. It is not good advice or leadership. It already has formented jealousy. The Federal building is 10 to be cleaned out from top to bottom, and the consolidators put in.

"I cannot allude to the chief part with which the 'consolidators' were to honor me and had, without my authority, pledged me to accept, because I had not been by the 'consolidators' officially informed of it, officially told by one of the 'insiders' that all was ready as soon as I gave the tip.

"The first opportunity that I had, when the scheme was developing in the attempted change of the name of the club, I mildly but politely and firmly entered my public ieadership, and had authorized any one to say that I would accept it, enjoying, as I do, 'elimination.'

"Under the constitution and by-laws of the club, the Board of Directors, after the first board, which was to be and was appointed, is elective, and when a vacancy occurs it has to be reported to the club and filled by the club by the nomination of a member from the ward where it occurs. Neither the president, nor any other officer or committee, has the authority to appoint a single member of the board. Therefore the president's act of wiping out the whole board and appointing a new one is indisputably illegal.

"So, too, with the Executive Committee, It was originally appointed pursuant to the by-laws and constitution, with nine members, who drew lots for one, two and three year terms. Then, after the first year, three were to be annually appointed. The president, having been remiss, though often notified, in not naming the three for 1991, has undertaken to wipe out the whole Executive Committee, chairman and all, and substitute an entirely new one, regardless of the allotted classification and unexpired terms of the majority of the committee, clearly in violation of the constitution and by-laws. No greater usurpation of autocratic and unauthorized power has ever been attempted by any of the old push.

Belinquests Legally Expelled.

Delinquents Legally Expelled.

Delinquents Legally Expelled.

"There has not been a meeting of the club for months, no quorum appearing, until last Thursday night. The legal quorum then is indisputable. The by-laws provide for a meeting every Thursday night. The by-laws in that respect have not been changed, and cannot be except on notice of two weeks and the action of the club. It lies in no man's power or that of bogus or other committees to arbitrarily disregard or change the by-laws. So the financial secretary, being an elective officer of the club, cannot be removed by any such whim or act. He is only subject to removal on charges and by a two-thirds vote of the club.

or act. He is only subject to removal on charges and by a two-thirds vote of the club.

"Hence, the reorganizers are up against it in the injunction suit before Judge Ryan in the term of the court in October. This is not the only suit they are likely to be up against before the end comes. It took two years to get a decision in the Twelfth District case and in support of regularity. Regularity will win again. There is room for the Good Government Club and no room for the amaigamation with the bad government Merchants' League Club.

"The Executive Committee—that one alone being legal which is presided over by Chairman Brownell—reported to Thursday's meeting a long list of delinquents as reported to it by the financial secretary, to which committee Mr. Koeiling, as in duty bound, reported. And the Executive Committee recommended, which was unanimously adopted by the club, to strike all delinquents from the roll. This disqualifies many so stricken off from being officers of the club, the by-laws providing that to be an officer one must be a member in good standing. The date was made for August is. The loudest-mouthed consolidators' are the greatest delinquents, both in dues and bar bills, and like those who put nothing on the plate of a Sunday want the most to say about the disposition of the collections. The kickers are up against it, and hard.

"When it is sought to bargain me off. I'd

The Priests' Eucharistic League was established during the last half of the Nineteenth Century. It was started in France, but now exists in nearly every country of the world. Its object is to promote devotion to the blessed sacrament. In every church where the league is established an hour is set apart each week, called 'holy hour," during which the blessed sacrament is exposed on the altar, and the faithful are invited to come and spend the time in adoration. At the close of the hour, benediction of the blessed sacrament is given.

Elmer Becker Plunged Into a Sewer a Distance of Twelve Feet and Was Fatally Injured.

A fall into a sewer excavation in the rear of his home at No. 4117 Nebraska avenue, Saturday evening, resulted in the death of 7-year-old Elmer Becker, son of Louis Becker, a coal dealer. Funeral services will e held at Holy Cross Lutheran Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial will be in the Lutheran Cemetery.

With Fred Voerner and Starling Benton, two boys living in the same block, Elmer Becker was playing in the rear of his home at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. There a new sewer is being laid at a depth of twenty-two feet. About the excavation is a light fence. Half way down in the hole is a scaffolding on which laborers can stand to throw dirt to the top.

This caused internal injuries. From the scaffolding he fell to the bottom, striking upon the back of his head.

Fred Voerner sprang down into the excavation to assist his friend. He struck first upon the scaffolding and then sprang to the bottom beside his playmate, escaping injury. He was followed a second later by young Benton, who also reached the bottom afely. They found Elmer Becker

Playmates who had witnessed the accident ran for help. Within a few minutes neighbors arrived, who lowered a ladder on which the injured boy was carried to the surface and then to his home. Despite med-

Mr. Greig formerly conducted a small shoe shop in the rear of the saloon on the north west corner of Prairie and Page avenues Recently he was compelled to seek other quarters. Having a good trade in the neighborhood, and not wishing to lose it, he began to look around for a desirable location near by. James J. McDermott of No. 3814 Page avenue learned of the old man's plight, and offered him the use of the vacant lot adjoining his own home. Greig suggested that he could purchase two old cars from the Transit Company and utilize them for a shop and living quarters cheaper than a building could be erected. Mc-Dermott agreed to allow him to place the cars on his lot, and Saturday they were

Many of those living on the block own their own homes, and there are also a num-ber of nice flats, the occupants of which do not relish the idea of having as one of the "improvements" of the street a couple of discarded street cars. When they realized that the cars were to be a fixture on the street they protested to Mr. McDerm but he laughed at them and said that the new shoe shop would be a benefit to them. They could not see it in that light.

Mr. McDermott said yesterday: "I was actuated merely by a spirit of charity in what I did for Mr. Greig. I was interested in the old man and offered him the use of one of my vacant lots free. We had several conferences about the erection of a Bond Purchases an Expedient.

Whether or not the relief afforded by the Treasury Department's bond purchases and the increase of public deposits in the banks have been sufficient to entirely prevent a recurrence of the decline, which was undoubtedly stayed, and converted from a falling into an advancing market, is the question which chiefly concerns Wall street at the present time. It was, at best, an expedient, and one which, while alleviating, has not necessarily cured a condition.

Judged by experience the acute period resulting from crop demands and the employment of money in the various channels of business has not passed. There is little reason to hope that general conditions have undergone any change sufficient to alter the situation this year, either as to the amount of money required or the duration of its employment in the interior. In time it will flow back as it has ever done in the past, but until the funds are well in hand the money market of the near future, even with the expedients noted, contains many uncertainties and does not yet afford assurance sufficient to lead to the unqualified belief that it could long stand an active speculative movement for the advance without showing tension.

Swayed by Opposing Forces.

ELMER BECKER,

Who was killed by falling into an excavation.

Elmer Becker was one of five children. Kari, Il years old; Laura, 3 years old, and a baby of ten days. He was well known in the neighborhood and his death was announced yesterday; morning from the nulpit of Holy Cross.

Swayed by Opposing Forces.

On several occasions during the week Wall street presented all the characteristics of a market swayed by opposing forces or reflecting divergent opinions. This manifested itself more distinctly in the later than in the early sessions of the exchange, and when not at all in evidence on Monday, when, after "closing the doors on the shorts," as the suspension of business on Saturday week is described by the brok ers, important interests were busily engaged flaying traders who had sold for a decline. The short interests suffered crueily in the market Monday, when the general list was run up from 2 to 19 points, and many of them rounded out the Interval white through miscalculating the dividend action of the Amalgamated Copper directors, whose omission of the usual extra payment, while thoroughly anticipated in well-informed quarters, was not believed as possible by the traders.

while thoroughly anticipated in well-informed quarters, was not believed as possible by the traders.

Opposition to a Bull Movement.

Many traders construed the passing of the extra Amalgamated dividend, following so close upon the failure of the St. Paul board to increase its dividend rate as an evidence of opposition to a bull movement by the Standard Oil party at this present time. Careful consideration of the facts, however, leads to the conclusion that the suspension of the extra dividend on Amalgamated was due, as was stated by the directors, solely to conservatism. What the actual condition of the copper company is no one outside the company knows, for it has never, from first to last, either when the public was invited to subscribe to its shares or when these were listed on the Stock Exchange, filed any report of assets and liabilities, submitted any balance sheet, or made any public statement of its earnings and operations.

Wholly aside from the Amalgamated Copper episode, the recent course of industrial properties, as represented by such statements as they have seen fit to make public, has not been reassuring to the public. In rapid succession have come forth a statement of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, showing a loss of more than $1,000,000 and the payment of unearned dividends on the preferred; of the Standard Rope and Twine Company, showing a loss of about $500,000, and a general condition which points strongly to a distintegration of this property. In addition to these, the American Linseed Oil Company reported a loss of $1,400,000, while the statement of the American Smelting and Refining Company revealed the fact that its condition before the acquisition of the new property was far from satisfactory.

It is not strange, therefore, that the stock market shows a tendency to break away from the industrial group and confine its attentions to the railway list. As far as the investing public is concerned, it is needless to say that the necessity exists now, as it has from the first for a very careful and painstaking investigation of industrials before any money is invested in their securities.

Investors Have Grown Suspicious of Industrial Groups and Are Turning to Railway Lists.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Sept. 22 -Stocks in the week just closed, despite obvious manipulation, have shown wonderful power of recuperation, which Wall street naturally attributes mainly to confidence inspired by President Roosevelt. The new executive lost no unnecessary moment in giving force to his oledge to carry out unaltered the policy of his predecessor. No step that he could have taken was calculated to win greater popularity among financial men or set misgivings at rest more speedily than the retention of President McKinley's Cabinet, Financial and commercial interests saw in this a happy augury for the future, and not unnaturally made the most of the favorable impression created, which found an immediate reflection in the price of securi-

The recovery in the market has indeed been remarkable, carrying many issues to a point above that which prevailed before the perpetration of the dastardly outrage at Buffalo. In not a few quarters the fact is recalled that stocks had developed a sagging tendency before the tragedy. In con-sequence of this, and the week's sharp ad-vances, it is not strange that the opinion is frequently expressed that the unhappy act of the assassin, in bringing forth timely money market relief-which was not a con ingency entering into bankers' calculation -checked a reactionary movement which must have ensued at about this time from purely natural causes connected with money market considerations, Bond Purchases an Expedient.

FATHER G. D. POWER RETURNS. Says There Is No Occasion for Talk

of His Resignation. The Reverend Father Gerald D. Power, of the Immaculate Conception Church, Jefferson avenue and Locust street, officiated yesterday, after an extended vaeatlen taken for his health. Father Power traveled up the St. Lawrence River and passed most of his time on Canadian soil. He was absent since August 6. "There is absolutely no occasion for talk." over my resignation as pastor," Father Power said yesterday. "The Archbishop over my resignation as pastor, rather, Power said yesterday. "The Archbishop proposes, I believe, to sell the church property so soon as it can be sold. At least, that is my understanding. My resignation depends upon that contingency." If the property is sold I hope to obtain leave to visit Rome again, I have not been there since 1866, when I completed my studies, and I have long been anxious to return there and rest. Associations of nearly forty years ago impel me back to the Holy City. I have no other plans, If the church be sold, the opportunity may be afforded me to gratify this longing to go to Rome."

to Rome."

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was established in 1874 by the Reverend Father P. F. O'Reilly, now pastor of the Cathedral Chapel, on Newstead and Maryland avenues. It is the intention of Archbishop Kain to sell the frame church when the new Cathedral, on Lindell boulevard, is commenced or completed. ced or completed, When You Rend tion met yesterday at Chippewa Hall, Orecon avenue and Chippewa street, and was addressed by Henry Fairback on the proaddressed by Henry Fairback on the proposed Charter amendments. Nothing definite was arrived at, but it was the sense of the meeting that some of the amendments should be indorsed, but others voted down. President Kath denied that he had made any statements hostile to the three-year garbage contract. In the light of this denial the association rescinded their vote of censure passed at a former meeting, because of a report that their president was not in sympathy with the members.

Delegate Karbe received a vote of thanks for his course in the lower house, and a committee of five was appointed to take a subscription which should be used to give him a token of the esteem of his constituents.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

St. Louis Ministers Assist at Organization at Louisiana.

Louisiana, Mo., Sept. 22.-A mass meeting of temperance people was held at the Courtof temperance people was held at the Courthouse this afternoon to organize an antisaloon league. The Reverend E. E. Barclay of St. Louis, superintendent of the State League, and the Reverend E. H. Hill of De Soto and the Reverend W. Deane White, assistant superintendent for this State, made addresses telling of the purposes of the league. A temporary organization was formed, with the Reverend C. F. J. Tate, president, and Professor J. D. Merriweather, secretary.

A meeting will be held Monday night to effect a permanent organization. This is the same organization that has been doing work in St. Louis and other large cities.
